NO TRESPASSING

(A documentary TV series formatted in 30-min episodes)

No Trespassing dares to go beyond the Do Not Enter signs to explore those empty places time's forgotten. How did they close? Who owns them? Why were they abandoned? What is their future? From deserted amusement parks to mothballed WW2 sea forts, No Trespassing gets to the heart of each and every story and goes where every urban explorer would love to follow. And they'll get a chance to do just that: viewers will be encouraged to submit videos about hidden places they're most intrigued by, and the best will be invited to join the No Trespassing crew on location.

No Trespassing! Once visited, never forgotten!

EPISODES IN PRODUCTION:

Six Flags New Orleans

Closed as Hurricane Katrina approached in 2005, Six Flags New Orleans has never reopened. What happened? What are the plans for the future?

EPISODES IN DEVELOPMENT:

Burlington Nuclear Bunker, England - Site of the main Emergency Government War Headquarters, this 35 acre subterranean Cold War City, built in the late 50's, is a massive complex able to accommodate up to 6,000 people in complete isolation for up to 3 months. What secrets does this underground site hold?

EPISODES UNDER CONSIDERATION:

(Only sites which can be legally and safely entered will be scheduled for production.)

Fort Carroll, Baltimore, Maryland - Constructed in the 19th century for war. Used as a firing range for the Army and check point for ships. Abandoned ever since. What happened to Fort Carroll?

Heritage USA Fort Mills, South Carolina - Abandoned since 1989, this Christian Theme Park with its 500 room hotel never quite completed, is still in good condition. From water slides to a shopping district, the park sits like time stood still. How has it stayed in such good condition? What happened?

Abandoned Peugeot's, Sochaux, France - In an old abandoned factory plant, Peugeot's of historical value lay hidden. There's everything from a 205T16 Group B to the Pope's car. What stories do they tell?

River Country, Disney World Orlando - Music still plays from the speakers throughout the abandoned River Country water park which opened in 1976 and closed for the final time in 2001. Are there plans for the future?

The Maunsell Sea Forts, North Sea, UK - During the Second World War, the British Royal Navy constructed a series of sea forts for an advanced line of defense against inbound air raids and potential sea invasions from the Axis powers. The sea forts still stand today, silent and abandoned a few meters above the North Sea. What happened?

Splendid China Orlando - Sprawling over 76 acres, Florida Splendid China is a $100 million version of China in miniature which opened in 1993 and closed in 2003. Did controversy cause it to close; was it the post-September 11th depression?
